

Moderator sheet

Keep this in view during the session. 30 minutes, 1:1, screen-share, think-aloud.

The one question: when a genuinely-new owner uses this, do they come away more confident and competent — or more confused (or falsely confident)?

SESSION FLOW

- 0–4 min Warm-up. “No wrong answers — I’m testing the tool, not you. Please think out loud.” Ask: their interest in ownership; ever looked at a horse to buy; how it felt.
- 4–24 min Five tasks (below). Hand over the URL, then stay quiet and take notes on the log sheet.
- 24–30 min Debrief (questions below), then send the survey.

THE FIVE TASKS — READ EACH ALOUD, THEN WAIT

1. Learn (cold open). “Spend two minutes getting a feel for this. What do you think it’s for?”
2. Legends. “Figure out what makes a great horse’s page great. Tell me one thing you learned.”
3. Evaluate. “A friend offers you a share in a yearling. Load a famous horse as a stand-in, or enter one — does this look like a good horse, and how sure are you?”
4. Price. “It’s at Keeneland September for $60,000 — normal price? Now imagine it’s in Book 1.”
5. Take it to your agent. “You want an expert’s second opinion. Get something you could send them.”

Do

- Stay silent while they explore — let them struggle
- Ask “what did you expect there?” when they pause
- Echo their words back, never yours

Don’t

- ✗ Point, hint, or rescue them
- ✗ Explain a feature they didn’t find
- ✗ Ask leading “wasn’t that helpful?” questions

WHAT TO WATCH FOR (THE ASSUMPTIONS UNDER TEST)

A2	Does the checklist teach ?	Can they explain a pillar back, unprompted?
A3	Score read as a lean , not a verdict ?	Do they over-trust the number, or say “it’s just my inputs”?
A4	Price check feels useful?	An audible “oh, that’s helpful”? Do they get the book nuance?
A5	Data entry not too heavy ?	Where do they stall, sigh, or give up?
A6	Report worth sending?	Would they send it? To whom?

DEBRIEF — THE MONEY QUESTIONS

- “In one sentence, what is this for?” “What would you tell a friend buying their first share?”
- “Did anything make you trust it more, or less?” “Most confusing or annoying moment?”
- “Would you use this again before a real purchase — why / why not?”

Green if they can explain a pillar (A2) + read the score as a lean (A3) + would use it again + volunteer the report/price as the best part. Red if they feel no more capable, act on the score as a verdict, or wouldn’t reuse it or send the report.

Participant observation log

One sheet per participant. Write during the session — capture their words, not your paraphrase.

Participant _____ Date _____ Segment ☐ share owner ☐ prospective ☐ other

Catalogue-reading confidence (1–5) _____

T1 · First impression — “what is this for?” (verbatim)

T2 · Learned something from the legends? ☐ Y ☐ N — what?

T3 · Did they read the score as a lean or a verdict? ☐ lean ☐ verdict — evidence?

T4 · Got the price sanity check + book nuance? ☐ yes ☐ partly ☐ no

T5 · Found & valued the report? ☐ found it ☐ would send it — to whom?

Survey Q1 _____ Q2 _____ Q3 _____ Q4 _____ Q5 _____ NPS _____/10

Reminder: a 5 on Q3 (“I trusted it”) from someone who over-trusted the number is a red flag, not a win.

Quick survey

Hand to (or email) the participant after the session. Takes about two minutes.

Circle a number: 1 = strongly disagree, 5 = strongly agree.

1. I understand racehorses better than before I used this.

① ② ③ ④ ⑤

2. I know what to look at when evaluating a horse now.

① ② ③ ④ ⑤

3. I trusted what the tool told me.

① ② ③ ④ ⑤

4. The price check was useful.

① ② ③ ④ ⑤

5. I would use this before a real purchase.

① ② ③ ④ ⑤

ONE MORE

How likely are you to recommend this to another new owner? (0 = not at all, 10 = extremely)

① ② ③ ④ ⑤ ⑥ ⑦ ⑧ ⑨ ⑩

THE ONE THING THAT WOULD MAKE THIS MORE USEFUL IS...

Thank you — this genuinely shapes what gets built next.
